

Agenda

Thematic Round:

“The economics of climate change and water in Latin America and the Caribbean” Project
Hotel Benidorm, Mexico

Monday September 22, 2014

Final presentations<sup>1</sup>
Rivera Meeting Room

8:00 am - 8:30 am	Juan Robalino / Róger Madrigal: Welcome
8:30 am - 9:10 am	María Acevedo The effect of extreme hydro-meteorological events on labor market outcomes: Evidence from the Colombian Caribbean
9:10 am - 9:50 am	Santiago Guerrero / Miriam Juárez / Jesús López Corn production, cultivated area and price responses to climate change in Mexico
9:50 am - 10:00 am	Coffee Break
10:00 am - 10:40 am	Gustavo García-López / Sergio Villamayor Understanding community-based adaptations to climate change: droughts, disturbance characteristics, household strategies and collective action in Mexican irrigation communities
10:40 am - 11:20 am	Javier Aliaga Glacial recession and hydrological resources in the Bolivian Cordillera Real: Analysis of perceptions and behavior of peasant households as a basis for adaption to climate change
11:20 am - 12:00 pm	Alejandra Ríos / Daniel Revollo Present and future of the Aguadas, Calakmul, Mexico: Analyzing the behavior of the inhabitants against climate change
12:00 pm - 1:30 pm	Lunch: Hotel's Restaurant

<sup>1</sup>Thematic Round researchers will have 30 minutes of presentation, followed by 10 minutes of public discussion (questions and answers). One on one meetings will take place Monday afternoon at Benidorm Hotel.